FAQs

How does it work?

Each student is paired with a dedicated Internship Advisor who kicks things off with a skills assessment to identify learning outcomes and career goals. Next, we work with the student to improve on their résumé and interview skills. Finally, we match their profile with companies that have relevant internship openings and arrange interviews. If the interview is successful and an offer is made, we lock in the internship!

What companies do students intern at?

We work with over 5,000 partner companies, ranging from start-ups to global corporations. Based on their level of experience, field of study and career goals, we'll match them with a company that's best positioned to support their learning outcomes.

How do you vet these companies?

We have a thorough due diligence process with our partners. This includes verifying the legitimacy of the business, assessing the quality of the work environment, and ensuring they have appropriate mentorship structures in place. Our team conducts regular check-ins throughout the internship period and monitors all student and supervisor feedback to maintain high standards.

Are these real internships?

Absolutely! Students will be assigned tasks and projects that contribute to the business and provide hands-on learning. Every candidate goes through formal interviews and must be extended an offer by the hiring manager before the internship is secured.

How do you ensure successful interviews?

Our internship advisors routinely review all interview feedback with hiring managers. If the role wasn't the right fit, we present them an alternative opportunity aligned with their chosen fields. If feedback points to areas of improvement in interview performance, we provide individual coaching and mock practice sessions to help them feel more confident and prepared for the next one.

How do you monitor learning outcomes?

Students are guided to set personal goals at the start of the program, which are revisited at the end to measure progress. Host companies also provide routine performance feedback, to highlight areas of growth and achievement.

What's the timeline like?

We set aside at least 8 weeks for the placement and interviewing process. Depending on visa requirements, additional buffer time may be added as well. The earlier we can begin, the better, especially for summer internships where demand peaks.

Will students get paid?

These internships are voluntary and learning-focused. While some host companies may choose to offer stipends, this depends on their internal policies, visa conditions and local labor laws. Because of this, we do not guarantee that internships will be paid, and encourage students to approach their internships with a growth mindset, where the biggest takeaway is the skills, insights, and international perspective they gain.

How do you ensure the safety and well-being of students while abroad?

- Minimum of 10:1 student-to-staff ratio
- Pre-departure & arrival orientations with emergency protocol briefings
- Dedicated WhatsApp group to raise issues needing support
- Individual check-in with every student during weekly events
- Constant communication with partner companies to address any issues that may arise during the internship itself
