SEMESTER Abroad

Maximo Nivel's Country Jumper Semester Abroad is a unique semester program that combines intensive coursework, language immersion, internships, and service learning across Latin America. Designed as a cohort-based university experience, the program takes students through three to four dynamic 3-week terms in Peru, Costa Rica, and optionally Guatemala.

During each term, students select from university-level content courses, Spanish language courses at multiple proficiency levels, and service-learning projects connected to the local community. Students may also enroll in an internship in their field of study. The program is all-inclusive with housing and meals, and includes two 1-week breaks during the semester for independent travel or optional Adventure & Culture excursions offered by Maximo Nivel.

Maximo Nivel oversees every aspect of the semester experience. Our team of multilingual program advisors and field managers include international and local professionals—we come from a wide variety of backgrounds including education, business, international relations, and science. As experts on Costa Rica, Guatemala, and Peru, the Maximo Nivel team is here to help you every step of the way, and students receive 24/7 support throughout their time abroad.
